Founder Speech

The founders' conviction to provide an educational model that serves the causes of the Arab nation and countries suffering from wars and conflicts — as well as all those deprived of the opportunity to join higher education institutions — is based on the principle of intellectual liberation to establish competitive foundations for university education aimed at achieving intellectual, scientific, and practical renaissance.

Thus, Stardom University was born.

We believe that education is not a privilege, but a fundamental right and the most powerful tool for building a better future. Stardom University aspires to empower minds, inspire innovation, and prepare leaders who create positive impact in their communities and across the world.

> From the heart of our mission, we continue to build an academic institution that transforms potential into achievement and ambition into lasting legacy.
